2 The Unexpected

“Here upon the day of Pentecost, that which happened was not merely the renewal of the life of these men; it was the imparting to them of a new life, a new principle of life, something they had never had before, that Abraham never had; there was given to them the life of the Christ, the Incarnate One; so that there came to these men that which made them one with Him and with each other, and constituted their membership in the Church.” – G. Campbell Morgan
